The joke is that the place is called "Sneed's Feed & Seed" which is clever in itself and quite funny to those with a mature sense of humour but what's really just hilarious about it is that if you look closely at the front of this store, Sneed's Feed & Seed, you can see a line that reads "Formerly Chuck's". Now, this might go over the average viewer's head as this, THIS, is peak comedy. I doubt anything will ever be as funny as the joke about Sneed's Feed & Seed. Are you ready for this one? So, like I said, the place is called "Sneed's Feed & Seed" and this sign says "Formerly Chuck's", which means that when Chuck owned the place, well, I don't have to tell you...

There wasn't a good side to the war. Hitler knew that we would retaliate if he invaded Poland, he knew he would fight another world war. Now ask yourself, did Hitler have to invade Poland? Was it an immediate need? Could he have waited for Oswald Mosley to get in power, which he could've very well done. Hitler fought a war in which he knew he'd lose everything. I'm no defender of Winston Churchill, but Hitler knew what fighting the English would entail.

So fuck that retard for pushing us into the position we are in now. Nationalism is now a taboo.

What a mong.
The government banned people travelling out of the south with no good reason.
They didn't ban freight.
Even during the initial coronavirus outbreak commercial freight between the UK and France wasn't banned.
This is obviously a politically motivated move by the EU.
It's a "here's what will happen if you don't give us the fish".

Lorries are allowed into the country though, they're just not allowed out.

The only countries this is hurting are European countries that buy British fish.
